AMERICAN WHISKEY As with so much of American cuisine and foodstuffs, whiskey distilling is enjoying a strong resurgence. Here is our growing collection of fine American whiskeys – bourbons, Tennessees, ryes, wheats, other grains, and white dogs. Most whiskeys are -90 proof (45% alcohol) unless otherwise noted. Do forgive the silly descriptions, covering both aroma and taste, which are culled from various sources and which we think are great fun. ♦Designates a balanced, smooth drinker, especially good for a first time try of fine whiskey. Taste = 1.25 ounces and a Glass = 2.0.

FLIGHTS ¾ ounce servings.

Bird is the Word. Three flighty bourbons – Fighting Cock, Old Crow Reserve, Eagle Rare Single Batch 10 Yr	9.00
Dawn to Dusk. White, light, and dark rye – Koval Rye Chicago White, Koval Lion's Pride Light Rye, Lion's Pride Dark Rye	12.00
Wanna Go For A Rye. Three ryes from three states – Few Rye (Jerry's own limited release cask), Bulleit Rye, Whistle Pig Rye	14.00
Moon Over Bourbon Street. Three of our favorite bourbons - Willet Pot Still, Four Roses Small Batch, Elijah Craig 18 Year	14.00
Over A Barrel. Curious barrel aging – Angel's Envy (port barrels), St. George's (port & sherry), Ransom Whippersnapper (pinot noir)	14.00
Heart Of Darkness. Old, gnarly, and rare – Jefferson's Presidential Select, High West Rocky Mountain Rye 21 Yr, Pappy Van Winkle 23 Yr	24.00

BOURBON must be made from at least 51% corn and aged in charred (the interior) oak barrels, and comes from Kentucky (unless otherwise noted). Bourbon is typically sweeter and smokier than other whiskeys. Best aged around 6-8 years, it does not necessarily benefit from further aging, although there are many exceptions. We omit mention of "small batch (SB)" on the listings except where necessary, it being a very vague and undefined term. SiB refers to "single batch", whiskey made from one single barrel and by definition unblended.

OTHER AGED WHISKEYS are not bourbons because either they are not a 51%+ corn blend (mashbill) or they are aged in a manner other than charred barrels. Jack Daniels and George Dickel's are the rarer style of "Tennessee Whiskey" which is filtered through maple charcoal after charred barrel aging, for a smoother, milder, taste.

WHITE DOG, aka white whiskey, white lightning, moonshine, receive only brief wood aging so to retain their clear color. They therefore lack the oak flavor of whiskeys aged in wood barrels and the smokiness from the charred barrels of bourbons and the like. Young distilleries often will release only whites while the rest of their production ages in barrels. Whites can be successfully compared to, and substituted for, other clear spirits like vodka and gin.

AMERICAN CRAFT BEER

Dig delving into this beer list. It is entirely American. We believe that Americans are doing the most dynamic brewing in the world, both by intensely following tradition and wildly deviating from it. Some of these brews easily rival fine wines. We've put countless grueling and thankless hours into tasting these beers. Do note the alcohol by volume content (abv) which varies dramatically. 🍷*Designates "bombers". Most of our servers are Cicerone certified beer servers, so if you have questions ..., although as Mom used to say, "if it's got a cork in it, I'll drink it". You get the idea.

Ales & Lagers. Ales undergo warm fermentation, with the yeasts rising to the top, typically producing complex, fruity flavors. All ales are beers, but not all beers are ales. Lagers are slower, cold fermented, with the yeasts remaining at the bottom. Bottom fermentation tends to produce crisp, clean beers without the more complex, fruity character of ales. The big brews - Bud, Heineken, etc. are lagers, usually of the pilsner type. From Lagunitas Brewing: "Where an ale might hit you over the head and take your wallet, lagers donate to charity and adopt stray cats. While an ale might steal your car or try to date your daughter and keep her out all night for who-knows-what purpose, a well-bred lager would offer to clean your house while you're on vacation and leave fresh scones and coffee for you when you return. Now, don't get us wrong, ales can be a lot of fun to hang out with when you're in the right mood, and if you have bail money on you. But what's wrong with livin' uptown from time to time, on a nice street, where the doormen all wear those little uniforms, the air smells of flowers, and lagers rule the Earth."

Porters & Stouts are very dark ales, the color coming from roasting the barley to an almost burnt state. Porters are typically lighter of body than stouts.

Ratings. For the truly beer addled, we present a series of numbers at the end of each beer description. The first number is ratebeer.com's percentile ranking of that beer to all the beers of that style. The second number is ratebeer.com's numerical ranking of that beer to all beers of every style, on a scale of 5.0. While it is fun to compare your tastings with these numbers, we urge you to take them with a great grain of salt. They are averages of the ratings of all the voting members of the web sites. They do not take into account the variability of a brew from year to year or any improvement or decline of a brew over time and, in our opinion, they reflect a bias among beer drinkers towards heavy, potent brews (like stouts) against lighter brews. Finally, the last number is our own rating of the beer against all beers of that specific style, on a scale of 5.0. If you would like to speak to your beer menu author, and possibly subject him to a good tongue-lashing, do ask if Mark is in. If not, we have a number of people who think that they are beer "experts" on staff that would be happy to chat with you.

BEER FLIGHTS Choose any draft beer, or any 12 ounce bottle so long as you select 2 glasses of the bottled beer. Each glass is 6 ounces. Prices listed below are for "regular beers" which are draft or bottled beers priced at $5.50 or less. Mostly modest additional charges will apply for beers in higher price ranges.

Anderson Valley Boont ESB (CA). Hazy orange-amber with foamy beige head. Medium body, some sweetness and creamy, with good balance of sour, earthy malts with smooth, dry hops on the good finish. Floral, honeyed flavors of grapefruit, orange, toast, burnt sugar, and dry hops. 6.8% abv {94% 3.4 4.0}..... 6.00

Left Hand Sawtooth (CO). Hazy amber with creamy beige head. Light to medium body, a touch of sweetness, with substantial malts and dry hops imparting some heft and creaminess to the body and dry finish. Flavors of sour malt, grapefruit, brown sugar, toast, and dry hops. 4.8% abv {73% 3.2 3.9}..... 5.50

PALE ALE There is range of styles here. The best known, India pale ale, is typically orange-hued, with creamy, dry hop and citrus flavors.

The so-called American pale ales are usually both dryer and fruitier than their IPA cousins, owing to the big and bold American hops. In reality the two groups can overlap with some IPA's being bigger than APA's. In addition, there are the even milder pale ales and English pale ales, as well as the quirkier rye and black pale ales.

Avery IPA (CO). Cloudy amber. Full body, malty flavors with big orange and bread undertones. A big styled IPA. 6.0% abv {81% 3.6 4.2}..... 5.50

Bear Republic Racer 5 (CA). Cloudy orange gold with foamy head. Medium body, good balance of malt and hops, good finish. Flavors of pineapple, orange, flowers, and a touch of honey. 7.0% abv {98% 3.9 4.0}..... 5.75

Bell's Pale (MI). Hazy orange with creamy white head. Light to medium body, crisp, with balance of malt and hops and dry, bitter, finish. Mild flavors of grain, lemon, and orange. 5.3% abv {68% 3.3 3.5}..... 5.50

Bell's Two Hearted (MI). Orange with flotsam off-white head. Medium, lively body with long, biting finish. Flavors of orange, grapefruit, and pine, with just a touch of candied sugar on the finish. 7.0% abv {100% 4.1 4.9}..... 5.75

Dogfish Head 60 (DE). Orange gold with white, creamy head. Medium, creamy hoppy body. Grassy, piney, herbaceous flavors with undertones of oranges and long pine finish. 6.0% abv {93% 3.8 4.7}..... 5.50

JOLLY PUMPKIN BELGIAN ALES Invariably cited as one of America's best brewers, Jolly Pumpkin of Michigan produces an array of idiosyncratic, iconic Belgian-style ales featuring an always potent dose of brettanomyces yeasts. These wild Belgian and French yeast strains impart complex, unique flavors (shorthanded as "funk" or "brett") such as leather, smoke, cheese, barn yard, wet dog, and even manure. Jolly Pumpkin ales are wood-aged for varying lengths of time, and are bottle-conditioned (with more yeast added to the bottle so that the ales remain "alive" and evolving). These "wild" ales tend to strike first timers as a bit peculiar; but, then you get to thinking about trying another. To borrow an old Grateful Dead analogy, they're a lot like licorice – not everyone likes licorice but those that like licorice, really like licorice.

●Jolly Pumpkin Bam Biere Saison (MI). Murky orange-gold, white head. Light, crisp and tart body, with great hop balance and finish. Sour, bretty flavors of green apple, green pepper, lemon, coriander, and funk. 4.5% abv {94% 3.7 5.0}..... 22.00/750ml
